Hi Mrs. Daddario and happy
National Foreign Language Week!

How long have you been teaching at Whitman for? 🤔

I've been at Whitman since 1992. I got a job in the district right after I graduated college when I was 22 years old so I've been here for 28 years! Can't believe it!

Wow!! Incredible

How many languages can you speak?

I'm just bilingual. I grew up speaking both English and Spanish. Would love to learn Italian-maybe when I retire??

Impressive

Send me a picture of your favorite destination

Mrs. Daddario >

Wellfleet, Cape Cod! My in laws have a home there and my family spends 2 weeks there every summer. It's my favorite place to unwind and relax! Gotta watch out for the sharks! 🐟

Gorgeous! Omg sharks!?

HA HA

Describe what you were like in high school in 3 words

This is the sign that is at all the entrances of the beaches at the Cape! 😱

Oh my goodnesssss

In HS I was athletic, outgoing and friendly

How has it been working with technology during this time of hybrid learning?

It's definitely been a learning process with lots of steps. I feel like an air traffic controller at times pressing so many buttons!

Lol! You're doing a fabulous job 🤗

What was it like helping to coordinate the new mural by Andaluz the Artist? send pics if you took any with your phone also!

The mural was something we were looking to do for a while. We wanted to put something on that wall to welcome students into our multicultural hallway. Fiona Cardillo reached out to her former student, Efren and he was excited to leave his mark with a positive message of acceptance and unity!

Love that!!

Great pic!

What do you look forward to everyday as a teacher?

Mrs. Daddario >

Being with the kids and my fellow friends/teachers at school. 😊

We're so lucky to have you

Favorite restaurant?

Aww-thanks! Rincón Criollo-it's the best!!! I grew up going to the original one in Queens and was super excited when they opened one right by Whitman. It has the best Cuban food and since I'm Cuban, I think it's delish!

I've gotta check it out!

And finally, what faculty member would you like to see interviewed next? 🤓 🤔 - Luigi Capizzano- he works so hard for the ENL students and is an incredible and caring teacher.

Thanks so much for the interview , have a great day !
