Food for Thought

"In three words I sum up everything I've learned about life: it goes on."

-Robert Frost

Superintendent's Corner

Earlier this month, Governor Cuomo released his Executive Proposal, which is typically the first step of the New York State budget process. This initial spending plan represents a starting point from which local legislators typically work to increase aid to their individual school districts. The media always reacts "energetically" to the Governor's Executive Proposal, as it really does indicate the tone and tenor of the year's budget season. With that understood, we were pleased to see that our South Huntington District received approximately a 5% increase over last year's aid allotment. This initial prediction is certainly good news, especially given the fact that nearly half of Long Island schools are due to lose some degree of aid. However, it is critically important that we understand the nature of this aid as every dollar is not equal in the school finance world. School District Aid essentially falls into two categories. The first category is "expense-driven aid," which is the money a district is reimbursed for each eligible dollar that they spend. For example, South Huntington receives 54% back for every textbook that we buy. As with most things governmental, the formula can be quite complex and reimbursement takes some time. However, school districts are wise to direct spending when possible into areas eligible for the highest maximum aid. The counterpart to expense-driven aid is actually formula-based funding, which is based upon an intricate, and considerably more convoluted than necessary formula. "Formula driven aid" is determined by criteria, which provides some opportunity for NYS decision makers to individualize aid based on distinct circumstances rather than a prior year's spending. As a result, formula-driven aid, which is called "foundation aid" in New York State, is an area where NYS budget makers can exercise discretion based upon district circumstance. Unfortunately, the approximate 5% increase from this year's Executive Proposal is based entirely on reimbursements from our own previous spending. In other words, there is a freeze in Foundation Aid, which is essentially the only area where we are not simply paying ourselves back. Again, we are certainly not "looking a gift horse" in the mouth with the 5% increase, but did want to clarify matters relative to the realities of our aid.

All Coders in grades K-5 will need to bring home their Chromebook on the day their session meets virtually.

Below is the schedule for each school and grade level:

Countrywood & Oakwood: Tuesdays, 3:45 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Session 1: 2nd Grade

News from Assistant Superintendent for Business and District Operations

Dr. Vito D'Elia

The financial news is starting to come together at the state and federal level, and we hope to have some concrete aid numbers before our local budget adoption deadline. The process will unfold progressively over the next several weeks with budget work sessions beginning February 24th, March 10th, and March 24th, before adoption on April 20th, and a final vote on May 18th, 2021. We welcome you to tune into the sessions and be part of the process as we create a sound financial plan for the 2020-2021 school year.

Some Thoughts from Assistant Superintendent for Student Services April Poprilo

SADD and Natural Helpers are teaming up this week to recognize PS I Love You Day this Thursday, February 11th, and Friday, February 12th. PS I Love You Day is a day used to increase awareness of the importance of mental health and the value of recognizing when you or others around you need help. Please remind your child to wear purple on Friday and buy a pair of purple PS I Love You socks. Socks are $15 and can be purchased from a Natural Helper or a SADD Club member or from the Main Office.

This is a reminder that the Senior Photo is being taken this week in 10 different sessions. By now, you've received an email from Mr. Varlamos, and your child received a pass from their 1st period teachers indicating the exact day and time of their appointment. We ask that all students please arrive at the North Gym exactly at your assigned time. The goal is to bring as many important senior activities and events as possible to allow our Seniors to get the entire Senior experience.

The Interact Club is holding a fundraiser for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Please consider buying a shirt or hoodie to help support finding cures for children with cancer and other diseases. Please visit Interact's website to place an order or scan the QR code found on Interact flyers.

Parents as Reading Partners (PARP) Week has wrapped up! It was great to see the students dressed up for Book Character Day and School Color Day! Please be sure to send in your child's reading logs and contracts this week. Thank you for making it a great PARP Week! A special thank you to our South Huntington Nutrition Services team for creating a very special PARP cookie for our students to enjoy last week! It was a real treat!

This week kicks off the Coding/Design Program for our afterschool coders! We begin the program with our second grade students for the next five Tuesdays. Devices will be sent home for our coders to use during the program. We are all excited to let our students show their coding skills and learn some new coding strategies.

Oakwood is posting new pictures on our social media accounts on Instagram and Twitter! We are very excited to share all of the wonderful things happening to enhance and build on our home-school connection! If you are interested in following us, please see the information below:

Wishing all of our families a warm and cozy week!

News from Mr. Mitchell Levy, Principal of Countrywood Primary Center

Due to last week's snowstorm, Countrywood's PARP week activities continued into early this week. We loved seeing all of the crazy hairdos that our students and families came up with. Thank you, as always, to our wonderful PTA for organizing a week full of fun PARP activities. A huge thank you goes out to our school nutrition program for providing a treat during lunch for all of our students.

This year, Countrywood students and staff are once again participating in PS I Love You Day – taking a stand against bullying and bringing awareness to mental health. We invite all students and staff to wear purple on Wednesday, February 10th in honor of this special day. Here at Countrywood we have taken this important day and adapted it for our primary level students. Throughout the week our students will participate in various activities and perform random acts of kindness and friendship. We will be filling our "fish tank" with fish representing the various acts of kindness and friendship that our students engage in. Students will receive recognition each afternoon as the "acts of kindness" will be read
