Please note:

Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) guidelines require that parent(s) of student(s) attending Title I schools be apprised of their rights regarding the professional qualifications of classroom teachers and paraprofessional staff. You should be aware that South Huntington's hiring practices have long since met these requirements. The South Huntington School District does not employ staff that is not deemed to be highly qualified. If you have any questions about your child's teacher and/or paraprofessional with respect to certification or qualifications, please contact your child's school.

Your child's school has been designated to receive Title I funds as part of ESSA. Under ESSA, the district is required by law to disseminate information to parents regarding complaint and appeal procedures. Of course, the district encourages early, informal resolutions to complaints and/or issues at the building and district level whenever possible. In the event that it is not possible to resolve certain issues informally, complaints should be addressed as follows: Complaints must be made in writing; be signed by the person filing the complaint; specify the requirement of law or regulation being violated and the related issue, problem, and/or the concern; contain information/evidence supporting the complaint; state the nature of the corrective action desired; and be delivered to the Superintendent's Office.
